Barnardos Australia Reconciliation Statement Signing Ceremony 2012

Statement of Reconciliation

Barnardos Australia acknowledges Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples as the traditional custodians of Australia. We also acknowledge the past and commit to working with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples to achieve:

“A united Australia which respects this land of ours; values the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander heritage and provides justice and equity for all”

- Vision of the Council of Aboriginal Reconciliation

For Barnardos, reconciliation means working in a meaningful and respectful way with Aboriginal families and communities. It is a commitment of Barnardos to work in collaboration and partnership with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, organisations and communities.

Statement of Reconciliation

Barnardos Australia acknowledges Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people as the traditional custodians of Australia. We also acknowledge the past and commit to working with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people to achieve:

“A united Australia which respects this land of ours; values the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander heritage and provides justice and equity for all”. (Vision of the Council of Aboriginal Reconciliation)

We recognise Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people as the first Australians, with unique cultures, languages and spiritual relationships to the land and seas. We are strongly committed to improving the lives of children and young people and to uphold the rights of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children to be cared for within their own communities and remain connected to their families, communities and culture.

Barnardos is committed to the Operating Principles of the agency, that is, keep the child and young person central, strengthen families, relate respectfully, value people's knowledge, pursue social justice and be persistent for change.

We will:

- Develop policies and deliver services that are appropriate and relevant to meet the needs of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children, young people, families and communities in conjunction with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander staff
- Work in positive and practical ways with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities to achieve generations of success for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children, young people, families and communities
- Promote and raise awareness of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander issues within the Organisation and in the broader community
- Commit to our Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Employment Strategy Plan
- Demonstrate leadership in reconciliation

For Barnardos, reconciliation means working in a meaningful and respectful way with Aboriginal families and communities. It is a commitment of Barnardos to work in collaboration and partnership with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, organisations and communities.

The painting depicts Workers reaching out into the communities near and far lending a helping hand trying to reconcile families.

Centre-piece: This contains the board members with the circled meeting places in which the board members meet often to discuss work issues.

Hands in Circles: These are the workers reaching out into the communities all around. The different coloured hands and circles show the different nationalities that work within the workplace and that Barnardos not only work with one race of people but with all different nationalities.

Footsteps: depicts the workers travelling from place to place, always on the move.

Weapons: These represent the knowledge that one learns and never forgets and always able to pass it on.

Boomerang: This represents the seating of the board discussing ideas.

Buujang: A man of wisdom overseeing all that the workers do.

Our Organisation

Barnardos Australia is a non government, non denominational child protection charity working for the welfare of children and young people. It is committed to advocating for the welfare of all Australian children. Barnardos provides direct services predominantly in NSW and the ACT. The agency promotes a range of welfare and community programs nationally. Barnardos aims to find permanent, workable solutions to ensure the care of abused and neglected children and young people. Currently, Barnardos employs 515 staff, 45 of whom identify as Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander.

Our Vision

All children and young people have caring families in which they can grow safely and fulfil their potential. Families, children and young people are valued and supported by quality services and engaged communities.

Organisational Strategy

We will provide direct services to children and young people and use practice experience to promote effective policies and services for all disadvantaged Australian children and young people. We will draw on international evidence of what works, and will undertake research to develop the most effective practice. We are an active partner with communities, governments and other agencies. We are committed to children's safety at all times.

Values

- Keep the child and young person central
- Strengthen families
- Pursue social justice
- Be persistent for change
- Take responsibility
- Relate respectfully

Reconciliation Action Plan

Background

Barnardos South Coast Centre's NAIDOC Week Celebrations 2015

Barnardos Australia's Reconciliation Statement was officially endorsed by the Barnardos Chair on the 31st October 2012. This statement was produced by BIG or Barnardos Indigenous Group, our agency's representative group of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander staff, after extensive consultation across the agency. The Reconciliation Statement is consistent with Barnardos' vision and organisational strategy, being a practical statement of how the agency will work with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children, young people, their families and communities to meet their needs and achieve 'generations of success'.

Following the launch of the Reconciliation Statement, the Barnardos Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP) working group was established to provide oversight and review of the implementation of the Statement's intent. The RAP working group membership comprises both Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander and non-Aboriginal staff representatives from all welfare centres and sections of the agency.

In June 2014 Barnardos Indigenous Group (BIG) members met at Gilgandra to begin the development of Barnardos' first Reconciliation Action Plan. This first RAP draws together their contributions and provides a framework to progress reconciliation in our agency for the 2015 – 2017 period.

Progress to date

Although Barnardos Australia, like the rest of Australia, has a long way to travel to achieve reconciliation with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and to 'close the gap' on Aboriginal disadvantage, our agency has already taken some important first steps which reflect our commitment.

These are:

- In the Barnardos Australia Enterprise Agreement NAIDOC day for all staff was established, in addition to a flexible bereavement leave policy which recognises the obligations of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples
- Barnardos is a signatory to the Secretariat of National Aboriginal and Islander Child Care (SNAICC) 'Service Development, Cultural Respect and Service Access' policy of July 2008. The Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Placement Principle is firmly embedded as a core policy of this agency. This commitment has led to partnerships with Aboriginal community controlled organisations to increase the numbers of accredited Aboriginal Out Of Home Care agencies.
- An Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander employment strategy comprising culturally competent recruitment and retention methods, traineeships and custom made on site training programs for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander staff has been implemented
- Barnardos has assertively pursued ambitious employment targets for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander workers in family support programs across the agency.
- The Barnardos Indigenous Group or BIG was established in 2006 to provide peer support to Aboriginal staff and to provide advice to senior management and the CEO on culturally competent service delivery and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander staff recruitment and retention
- Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander early literacy and education has been prioritised in the Corporate Plan 2014-2017
- The Winangay Aboriginal Kinship Care assessment framework has been implemented in Barnardos kin care programs
- Barnardos Temporary Family Care (crisis and short term Out of Home Care) programs ensure effective searches for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander kin have been conducted for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children placed in these services
- Cultural care planning in Out Of Home Care programs is being developed throughout the agency
- The Barnardos Australia Reconciliation Action Plan 2015-2017 will complement the Barnardos Australia Corporate Plan 2014-2017.

Relationships

To continue to build respectful and strong relationships between Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, our clients, volunteers and each other to provide quality services that meet the needs of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children to grow and develop. As an influential non-government agency, which works with children who are most vulnerable in our community, it is our responsibility to promote respectful relationships.

Focus Area

To further foster and develop respectful relationships between Barnardos Australia and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and communities in order to improve effectiveness in service delivery.
