

About Barnardos Australia

Barnardos Australia is a leading non-government, non-denominational child protection charity in Australia.

Originally founded in the UK in 1870 by Dr Thomas Barnardo, we have been operating in Australia since 1921.

Barnardos Australia believes all children and young people deserve caring families in which they can grow safely and fulfil their potential.

We work together with children, young people and families to break the cycle of disadvantage, creating safe, nurturing and stable homes, connected to family and community.

Our intensive family support programs combat family and domestic violence, drug and alcohol abuse, mental health, poverty and homelessness, to strengthen families and keep children safe at home. When this is not possible, we also provide safe homes for children through foster care and kinship care to give children a safe place to grow and develop.

Since 1985, Barnardos has pioneered open adoption for non-Aboriginal children in NSW, giving children the permanency and security they need, for life.

What you need to know about Barnardos

We believe in children.

We work to keep children, young people and families safe.

We value our children, young people and families

We work together with children, young people and families to break the cycle of disadvantage, creating safe, nurturing and stable homes, connected to family and community.

Our commitment to Aboriginal people

We work in a culturally meaningful and respectful way with Aboriginal families and communities. We are committed to working collaboratively, and in partnership with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, organisations and communities.

Our voice

As a leader of innovation in Australian child protection, we use our knowledge and expertise to influence government, other non-government organisations and the wider community.

Our people

Our staff, carers and volunteers are engaged, valued and effective in working towards the mission, vision and values of Barnardos.

Our sustainable future

We maintain a strong and viable organisation with systems that enable and support our programs and services for children and families.

Barnardos Australia always puts children and young people first.

Our aim is that children and young people:

- Be happy and safe
- Feel listened to
- Feel accepted and valued
- Feel culturally respected and safe
- Have access to quality education and health care

Barnardos will help children and young people do their best. We will:

- Provide a safe environment
- Treat them respectfully
- Support them to achieve their goals
- Support contact with their birth family
